Message from the Chairman

It is a great privilege to share news with you from our Foundation and the U.S. Army War College. We know that our Foundation is uniquely positioned to serve you and the College in ways that no other organization can, and we do not take that for granted.

When our Board of Trustees held its Annual Meeting in Carlisle just after Labor Day, we received very helpful updates from the Commandant and the Provost. Those updates enabled us to press ahead planning our extraordinary support for College programs. We are very proud that we have been able to provide $1M in program support for each of the last two years. You can see from our Donor Honor Roll in this edition that we have accomplished this because of your generous support for our mission. We thank you for enabling our Foundation to help fill gaps in small and large College programs alike, making educational programs more effective than they would be otherwise.

Our Board of Trustees with USAWC Commandant, CSM, and Provost

With pleasure, we welcomed three new Trustees to our Board in September: Mr. Steve Linehan, NSS '11, from Annapolis, Maryland; Mr. Bill Summers, from Cleveland, Ohio, and Mr. Hans Christensen, New York City. Sadly, we had to bid farewell to three Trustees who completed their terms in September: Mr. Chuck Donabedian, NSS '08, Investment Committee Chairman from Cincinnati, Ohio; Ms. Judi Victor, NSS '09, Development Committee Member from Phoenix, Arizona; and Mr. Amir Lear, NSS '97, Investment Committee Member from New York City. Each contributed tremendously to our mission and we are truly appreciative of their service.

Donabedian

Victor

Lear

A special thanks also to COL (Ret) Len Fullenkamp, RES '90 & FAC '90-14, for leading a Foundation staff ride to Normandy October 12-16, 2015.

In conjunction with our Spring 2016 Board meeting in New Orleans, we will host a USAWC Alumni Dinner at the WWII Museum on March 16, 2016. If you live or work in New Orleans or surrounding areas and want to be sure you are invited, please email us at: alumni@usawc.org. We hope to see you there!

COMMANDANT
U.S. ARMY WAR COLLEGE

November 1, 2015

Greetings, U.S. Army War College alumni and friends!

The 100th resident class of the US Army War College is well into its ten month program and the full team is doing quite well here at Carlisle Barracks. I am very proud to report that over the past several months the faculty, staff and students of all USAWC Schools, Centers and Institutes have continued to make great strides in our collective vision to develop strategic leaders and ideas invaluable to the Army, Joint Force, and Nation. From June to July, we graduated 749 strategic leaders from our Resident and Distance Education Programs and returned them to their respective Joint and Multinational Forces to continue forward progress in support of their leaders' strategic objectives.

In late September, we passed with flying colors the reaccreditation of our joint professional military education credentials. The completion of our six-year Process for Accreditation of Joint Education (PAJE) truly reflects the quality of our resident and distance programs and helps secure our lineage as the gold standard for strategic educators of the future force.

The summer brought more than just changes in the faces of the students, but in the leadership team here at Carlisle Barracks as well. In June, we bid farewell to the first USAWC Command Sergeant Major, CSM Malcolm D. Parrish and welcomed CSM Christopher Martinez. CSM Parrish's leadership in developing the Army's Executive Leader Course for our nominative Command Sergeants Major and his input to our existing leader development programs has left an indelible mark on the USAWC and the Army. CSM Christopher Martinez comes to us from Cadet Command and brings a fresh set of experiences to further shape this capstone course of the NCO 2020 professional development system, as well as being an advocate for our soldiers and their families. Additionally, we welcomed a new Garrison Command Team to Carlisle Barracks. LTC Greg Ank and CSM Nelson Maldonado Jr. have established themselves as integral members of the community and are carrying the torch lit by LTC Kim Peebles and CSM Rosado.

Mr. Davis Tindoll Jr., RES '97, Director, Atlantic Region, IMCOM, officiated the change of command for LTC Greg Ank from LTC Kim Peebles, RES '16.

MG and Mrs. Rapp bid farewell to Dr. & Mrs. Tom Williams, DDE '02. L-R: MG Rapp, Vera Williams, Debbie Rapp, and Dr. Williams.

In October, we said farewell to Dr. Tom and Vera Williams as Tom moves to NASA in Houston to be the lead psychologist for the Mars program. They have been an integral part of the USAWC family for over 13 years and have worked wonders in Senior Leader Development and Resiliency, formerly the Army Physical Fitness and Research Institute. They were instrumental in setting the standard for developing leader self-awareness and resiliency and preparing leaders to meet the complex and ambiguous demands of strategic leadership within the human dimension of war. Their presence will be greatly missed and we wish them the best in their transition.

CSM Malcolm D. Parrish relinquishes the sword to symbolize his transition.

CSM Christopher Martinez.

Our resident diplomat, Ambassador Dan Shields, coming to us from 3½ years as the U.S. Ambassador to Brunei, is making a huge impact by helping connect USAWC to the State Department's Foreign Service Institute and by bringing his talents and insights to a myriad of wargames, conferences, and exercises. Ambassador Shields is a "roll-up-your-sleeves" kind of leader and is a superb addition to the Army War College.

Ambassador Shields

Summer is now over and the Carlisle Barracks foliage is transitioning to the beautiful shades of autumn representative of central Pennsylvania. Like the scenery, things continue to change around USAWC, as well.

The 2016 Academic Year began in August with 381 resident students, including 79 international officers from 73 different countries. It is a privilege to have the first officers representing Belize, Gabon, and Papua New Guinea in the Class of 2016. We have gotten off to a great start! The students have completed courses in the Introduction to Strategic Studies, Strategic Leadership, the Theory of War, and their staff ride to Gettysburg. Introduction to Strategic Studies is a new course and was developed to familiarize students with the major themes of the entire core curriculum within the context of an actual case study, while providing them exposure to the entire teaching faculty in each seminar. We developed this course to help establish the foundational concepts for analyzing conflict from several perspectives such as leadership, policymaking, theater campaign planning and the employment of instruments of power, and to provide overall context to the students for the year.

Leaders and ideas both matter. It is clear that we alone cannot determine our value proposition and, thus, we have reached out to the Chief of Staff of the Army and asked him to “in-source” some of the Army’s needed thinking. The Chief provided us with five big topics and funding to focus our intellectual efforts and ideas. The five Integrated Research Projects (IRP) allow the USAWC to meet the intellectual needs of the Army while enriching the educational experience for students. Over the next nine months, faculty-student teams will conduct research, develop policy options, test those options through wargames, write reports, and present the finished products to strategic leaders for evaluation. These topics are the building of general officers, impact of hybrid war on the Army’s future, future of the Total Army, and the role of Landpower in deterring Russia in Eastern Europe and China in the Western Pacific. It is a sign of trust in our faculty and students that the Chief asked us to take on these important topics for him.

The strength of the War College is the collective and synergistic intellectual energy of all our schools, centers, and institutes. In the past several months, our Center for Strategic Leadership completed their Basic Strategic Art Program course, the Strategic Leaders’ Seminar (for Senior Colonels and Warrant Officers), and multiple wargames in support of the Army Staff and the Mission Command Center of Excellence. The Strategic Studies Institute is moving full speed on CSA-directed research and their publications are making a difference. The Peacekeeping and Stability Operations Institute, the Army’s lead agent for Joint Peacekeeping and Stability Operations, is now also the Army’s new proponent for Foreign Humanitarian Assistance. COL Dan Pinnell and his team continue to provide detailed research, honest assessments, and candid feedback to our Army and Joint Force leaders. The U.S. Army Heritage and Education Center’s COL Pete Crean took the reins from COL Rick Harney who recently retired after 37 years of distinguished service. USAHEC recently unveiled a re-designed website, <http://www.carlisle.army.mil/ahec/index.cfm>, bringing the most requested information to the forefront and streamlined accessibility. The site also converts to a “mobile site” when accessed from a smartphone or tablet.

We uphold the Army’s responsibility to provide high quality services and conserve our precious resources. The Garrison team’s recent completion of multiple projects to support the sustainment and modernization of the U.S. Army War College and Carlisle Barracks exemplifies our stewardship. Our Garrison team just submitted our detailed requirements and foundational plan for an $89 mil replacement for the aging Root Hall that is worthy of our highly talented students and faculty. Additionally, the Garrison team completed an installation-wide re-cabling project to upgrade and modernize the post’s high voltage electrical capability. The project, coupled with the installation of modern power stations throughout post, ensures we are capitalizing on energy savings and utilizing energy responsibly.

We remain steadfast in our belief that we are the gold standard for strategic leader education and development as well as the vanguard of the Army’s strategic renaissance; but we are much more than a school! The schools, centers, institutes and garrison are our community and family-- all in this “best little hometown in the Army!” All are integral to the education and development of strategic leaders and the advancement of knowledge in the global application of Landpower.

STRENGTH AND WISDOM!

ARMY STRONG!

MG William E. Rapp

INTERNATIONAL FELLOWS HALL OF FAME

Since our Spring 2015 magazine, two International Fellows have been welcomed into the USAWC International Fellows Hall of Fame. Each enjoyed reunions with seminar-mates, sponsors, faculty members, and other friends and colleagues. Each expressed appreciation for the role of the college in helping frame and tackle strategic issues at the international level, and for the productive partnerships that have endured. There are now 58 members of the USAWC IF Hall of Fame.

SCHOOL OF STRATEGIC LANDPOWER – DEAN'S MESSAGE

Great news! As the Commandant briefly mentioned, the School of Strategic Landpower (SSL) achieved Joint Staff re-accreditation of both the resident education program (REP) and the distance education program (DEP). This was a stellar team effort—years in the making. A team of experts from the Joint Staff and other professional military education (PME) programs provided a thorough evaluation of our senior level college programs through the Process for Accreditation of Joint Education (PAJE). Both programs received “green” ratings in all areas and will be accredited through September 2021. The assessment adds to a heritage of excellence. The faculty and staff in SSL at present stood on the shoulders of our predecessors who contributed to phenomenal teaching teams, a magnificent curriculum, and masterful professional military education delivery techniques. I offer my deep gratitude to all who contributed to the success of this recent accreditation visit and my sincere appreciation to all upon whose splendid work we could build.

The extent of our programs’ successes are best measured through the graduates we contribute to society’s national security needs. Since the last magazine, five USAWC cohorts have graced the doorway of Root Hall.

The DEP Class of 2017 began its two-year journey with a voluntary two-day orientation weekend (held here at Carlisle in the spring), which attracted over three quarters of the class and has been a valuable innovation. Attending the orientation has helped distance students gain their footing more quickly, reduced student concerns, and has contributed to lower attrition rates.

We wrapped up the AY15 REP with the National Security Seminar (NSS). NSS brought together approximately 160 civilians from across the U.S. and all walks of life with our student body in a forum that promotes free and candid dialogue on issues of strategic importance to the Nation’s security and welfare. Each day included a keynote speaker addressing an element of national power, after which the “new members” of the class joined the resident students for intense small group dialogue. Distinguished speakers for the week included GEN Charles Jacoby, who addressed the topic of “Integrating the Instruments of National Power;” the Honorable James Steinberg, former Deputy Secretary of State, who addressed “Diplomacy;” VADM (Ret) John “Mike” McConnell, USN, who addressed “The Power of Information;” and Amb. Ron Kirk, former U.S. Trade Representative, who addressed “Economic Power.” At the end of NSS week on June 5, 2015, we celebrated the graduation of 387 resident students. The Chief of Staff of the Army, GEN Ray Odierno, RES ’95, was the graduation speaker and assisted in awarding students’ diplomas.

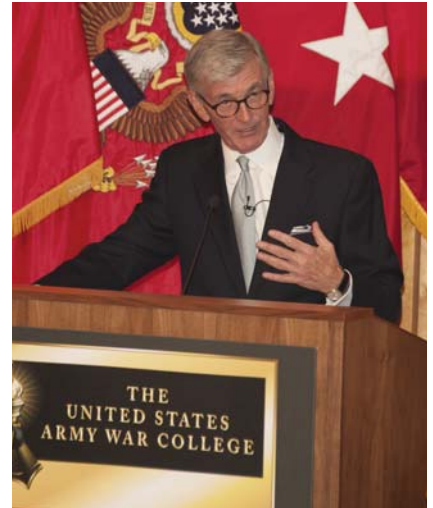

GEN Raymond Odierno

The DEP Class of 2016 completed its two-week First Resident Course (FRC) in June. Successful completion of Strategic Leadership, National Security Policy and Strategy, War and Military Strategy and Regional Issues and Interests set the stage for students to take advantage of a dense array of events such as national security staff rides to Antietam and Washington, DC, as well as a line up of powerful speakers to include GEN (Ret) Carter Ham, Dr. Richard Betts, Dr. Richard Neu, and Gen (Ret) Michael Hayden, USAF.

In July, the DEP Class of 2015 returned to Carlisle for its Second Resident Course (SRC). After a year of Contemporary Issues, DoD Organization and Processes, Theater Strategy and Campaigning and a diverse set of electives, students wrapped up their experience with the Commandant’s National Security Program (CNSP). CNSP highlights included presentations by LtG Jeffrey Talley, DDE ’03, Lt Gen Mark Ramsey, Honorable Heidi Shyu, a staff ride to Gettysburg, and the keynote address by Secretary of the Army John McHugh. TRADOC Commander, GEN David Perkins, spoke at graduation and assisted in presenting diplomas to 364 graduates.

Secretary of the Army John McHugh gave a keynote address in July 2015.

Teaching is the most important component of our mission and across the board, SSL faculty excelled in teaching, scholarship and service. Awards recognizing “Excellence in Teaching” were bestowed on resident faculty members COL Fred Gellert, RES ’08 (DCLM), Dr. Paul Jussel, RES ’00 (DMSP), COL Brian Maddox, RES ’11 (DNSS), and COL Tarn Warren, RES ’10 (DMSP). Mr. Don Boose, DCS ’86, COL Chuck Grindle, RES ’11, and Dr. Kevin Weddle, RES ’99, received “Excellence in Teaching” awards in the distance program.

COL Fred Gellert

COL Brian Maddox

COL(Ret) Steve Kidder

Dr. Kevin Weddle, Dr. Chuck Grindle, Mr. Don Boose

Scholarship and service are critical complements to our education and development mission.

On May 27, 2015, Academic Chairs were awarded to: Col Doug Douds, USMC, RES '10, Pershing Chair; Dr. Paul Jussel, RES '00, Taylor Chair; Ms. Kim Dozier, Bradley Chair; COL Chris Bado, CJCS Chair; and Dr. Adrian Wolfberg, DIA Chair. Not present was Dr. Rob Citino, Harold K. Johnson Chair.

We launched the REP Class of 2016 with a new course, "Introduction to Strategic Studies" that focused on the 1990-91 Persian Gulf War as a case study for introducing the major themes of the entire core curriculum. From initial indications, the case served our intent admirably in a manner that got the new class off to a strong start. With leadership from Dr. Christopher Hamner (visiting professor from George Mason University) and COL (Ret) Brett Weigle, RES '07, we're also piloting a different approach to the Strategy Research Project (SRP) for the Class of 2016. Part of the adjustment to the SRP was to explicitly identify ten dates on the academic calendar allocated to the students' SRP research. During the first four dates, two of the eight hours are dedicated to faculty-led sessions on effective research and writing. The faculty leading the sessions are volunteer preceptors with great talent for research and writing. The SRP is due by April 1, 2016 (no fooling!).

Among other highlights:

- SSL faculty were instrumental in the design and execution of a U.S. Cyber Command (USCYBERCOM) course to strengthen strategic analysis.
- SSL faculty provided support to professional military education programs in Turkey, Zambia, Afghanistan, Estonia, Tanzania, Saudi Arabia, and Latvia.
- SSL faculty participated in engagement with the Society for Military History, U.S. Army Pacific (USARPAC), CIA historical office, International Studies Association, U.S. Army Europe (USAREUR), the Chinese People's Liberation Army (PLA), and the United Nations.

What a variety of superlative activity!

Thank you all for adding the excellence that delivers extraordinary value to society's security requirements.

Dr. Richard Lacquement, RES '09,
Dean, School of Strategic Landpower

U.S. ARMY WAR COLLEGE FELLOWS UPDATE

The USAWC-administered Fellows Programs, comprised of CSA Senior (post-MEL 1) and USAWC Fellows (MEL 1), are off to a fast start for Academic Year 2016, with 100 Fellows assigned in 62 locations and in 72 separate programs around the country and overseas.

The USAWC Fellows' charter is two-fold in terms of Army expectations. The main thrust is for the Fellow to take advantage of a learning environment that is separate and distinct from that which is traditionally offered by the war colleges, and also parlay knowledge gained for the betterment of the Army. The secondary thrust is for the Fellow to represent the Army, either formally or informally, at the institutions and areas to which he or she is assigned. The Fellowships offer the Fellows the opportunity to satisfy the Army's goal of developing appropriately-educated ambassadors for the Army, who will be steeled to hold positions of broad scope and great responsibility, work in highly complex, ambiguous environments, and deal with problems which have no clear-cut solutions.

The CSA Senior Army Fellows are more senior, and are sent by the Army as seasoned ambassadors to centers of thought and influence. Once there, they assist those who would deliberate on the larger security challenges faced by the nation, and also report back their findings to the senior Army leadership.

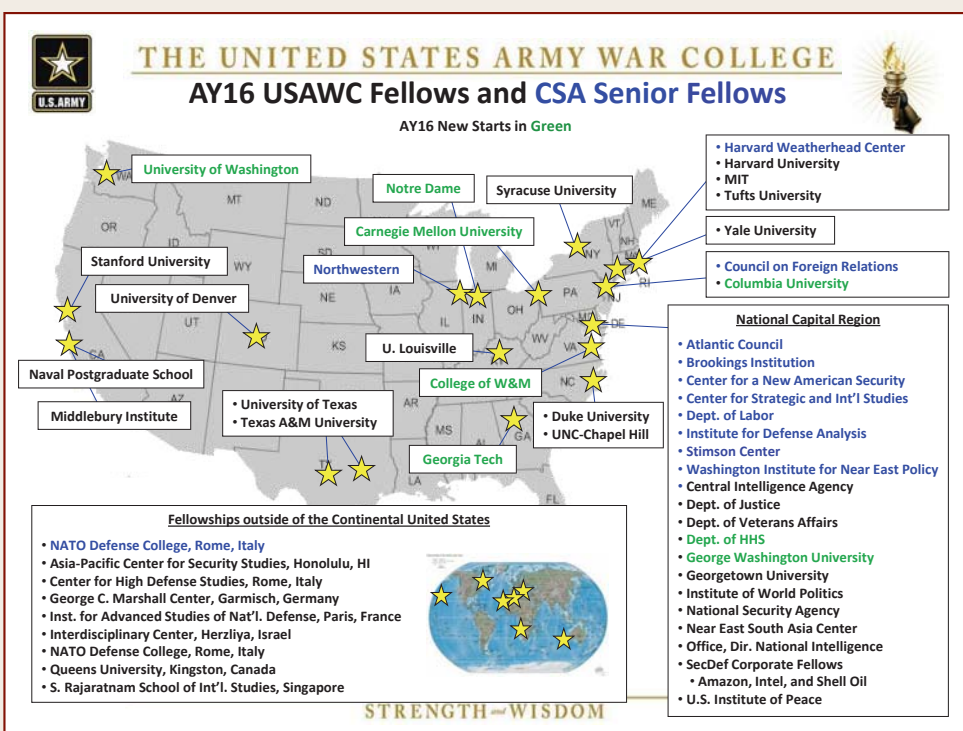

The Fellows are now at their hosting institutions, learning and writing, engaging with the general public, and representing the USAWC and the Army on a daily basis.

University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill and Duke University Fellows with Derek Chollet attended a discussion organized by Sanford School for Public Policy. L-R: LTC Brian T. Hughes, COL Michael D. Higginbotham, LTC (P) Jasper Jeffers III, Derek Chollet, LTC Anthony B. Poole (ARNG), COL Aaron Cook, COL Geoffrey T. Stewart, LTC (P) Lawrence G. Ferguson, and another attendee.

USAWC Fellow LTC Thomas M. Russell-Tutty met Kentucky Senator Mitch McConnell at the University of Louisville.

All five USAWC Fellows at the University of Texas met with President Gregory Fenves.

Ruth, MG Rapp, and COL Timothy D. Walsh.

MG Wm E. Rapp, Commandant, RES '04, traveled to the Boston area October 4-6, 2015 to visit with USAWC Fellows. He gave presentations and held discussions on Civil-Military Relations and Best Military Advice at two venues, the Harvard Weatherhead Center at the Harvard Faculty Club, for interested faculty and students, and at Tufts Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy for invited faculty and students. He also visited with the USAWC Fellows at each of the locations where they are learning this year: Harvard; MIT; and Tufts; and conducted office calls with their hosting faculty and senior administrators, plus at Harvard Business School and Harvard Belfer Center. These photos are from the Boston visit.

CENTER FOR STRATEGIC LEADERSHIP (CSL) UPDATE

This update finds the Center in the midst of planning and some transitions -- personnel turnover, team adjustments, and some organizational transitions. One of our transitions involved rethinking names. For one, we have gone back to our original name, the Center for Strategic Leadership. We have also settled on new department names: Department of Strategic Leader Development (DSLDD) and Department of Strategic Examination (DSE). The DSLDD will continue to focus on the educational mission of the Center, supporting the College daily, while the DSE serves as the wargaming, analysis, concepts, doctrine, and exercise/simulation support team. We are also exploring and defining our role as the "Strategic Leadership Laboratory of the U.S. Army."

Our Strategic Leader Education Division (SLED) successfully conducted all three of its leader development courses in the last eight months. Ten Army senior colonels and brigadier generals attended the challenging Senior Leader Seminar – Phase II course last Spring, focused on the development of their strategic-mindedness and communications skills. In June, the team conducted the two-week Executive Leader Course (ELC), for the Sergeant Major of the Army. The course is designed to prepare nominative Sergeants Major for duty as Senior Enlisted Advisors at one and two star Army commands. This ELC educated 29 senior Sergeants Major from all Army components. In August, SLED conducted a week-long Senior Leader Seminar for 57 active and reserve component Army Colonels, 29 Army and Interagency senior civilians, 8 strategic-level Command Sergeants Major, and 5 Chief Warrant Officers 5, educating them on their duties as advisors and executive officers for strategic leaders. All three courses are highly rated by attendees and have benefited from numerous national-level speakers.

The Strategist Education Division (SED) reached a milestone in August with the graduation of its 30th Basic Strategic Art Program (BSAP) class. To date, the program has graduated 389 officers and civilians, with graduates working at echelons from division headquarters to the National Security Council.

BSAP will also see a major transition this November with the retirement of Dr. Mike Matheny. Dr. Matheny has been the lead civilian faculty member since the program's initial class in 2003 and he will be missed.

Dr. Mike Matheny

The SED also conducted a 28-day Strategic Broadening Program (SBP) to expand the participants' understanding of the military's role in national security and the application of all elements of power in securing national interests. The SBP provides graduates with the tools and perspectives to bridge the gap between their tactical/operational backgrounds and their future challenges at the strategic level of war and policy.

The Joint Education Division (JED) also conducted a Combined/Joint Force Land Component Commanders Course this summer to prepare senior officers to lead land-centric operations/campaigns. Typically, 16 attendees represent general and flag officers from all services, the senior executive service, the senior foreign service, and allies. The course has graduated over 470 officers, with only 205 of them from the U.S. Army. The International Strategic Crisis Negotiation Exercise is underway again this year. Reaching over a dozen academic graduate institutions annually, with growing military applications, this exercise is highly praised by participants because it hones team building, negotiation, and other skills in a realistic, tough environment. Finally, the Joint Land, Air, and Sea Strategic Exercise is back for another year, tying USAWC resident students to the other Senior Service Colleges in a realistic strategic wargame.

Over the last six months, DSE hosted or participated in 11 Wargames and similar venues, ranging from support to resident course students, combatant commands, and the Tennessee Army National Guard. The DSE also leads three key Working Groups and Communities of Action for the USAWC. These teams bring together key communities of interest, including Futures, Homeland Defense and Security, and Cyber, from across the force to examine and explore strategic issues. The Futures team is tying in with the Army Concepts Integration Center (ARCIC) for Unified Quest (the U.S. Army's Deep Futures Wargame) and has a great elective; the Homeland team continues their great work with an exciting approach building toward a national summit; and the Cyber team is looking forward to another workshop and other possibilities. The Concepts and Doctrine team contributed to the College's Program for the Accreditation of Joint Education (PAJE). They also plan another conference this year, building on the value added of last year's Draw Down Conference.

The Operations and Support Division (OSD) and Department of Technical Integration (DTI) are embarking on a partnered approach for event and facility support. The OSD is new, but building on great ideas and past approaches. The DTI team continues to impress – customer and team satisfaction in their work is high, as always. The OSD and DTI also planned, coordinated, and executed support for 12 major external agencies, providing tailored conference services.

As always, it is an honor for us to share our great news with you, while making the point that these few highlights simply represent the larger body of great work being done by very talented and professional people in this Center.

12 Texas Aggie War Heroes: From World War I to Vietnam by COL (Ret) James R. Woodall, RES '72. Following on his successful Texas Aggie Medals of Honor, Woodall returns with a new book that focuses on the military service of Texas A&M graduates from WWI to Vietnam. Of the tens of thousands of Aggies who served in the nation's military, Woodall selected 12 who stand out as singular examples of bravery and heroism. He tells each story in a concise, engaging manner. Some subjects, such as

Earl Rudder and James Hollingsworth, will be familiar to readers, but he introduces us to less familiar but no less notable men as well, from A. D. Bruce's march from the trenches of France and the crossing of the Rhine in WWI to Bob Acklen's three tours in Vietnam.

Fighting the Cold War: A Soldier's Memoir by the late GEN (Ret) John R. Galvin, RES '73. When he retired after 44 years of distinguished service in 1992, the Washington Post hailed GEN Galvin as a man "without peer among living generals." In his memoir, the celebrated soldier, scholar, and statesman recounts his active participation in 60+ years of international history—from the onset of WWII through the fall of the Berlin Wall and the post-Cold War era. He had the rare opportunity to lead two different unified commands: U.S. Southern Command from 1985-1987 and U.S. European Command from 1987-1992. He recounts behind-the-scenes anecdotes about his interactions with world leaders and recalls complex negotiations with foreign heads of state. As NATO Supreme Allied Commander in Europe during the tumultuous five years that ended the Cold War, he helped shape a new era. A brilliant strategist and consummate diplomat, he was also a gifted historian and writer who taught and mentored generations of students.

A Different Face of War: Memories of a Medical Service Corps Officer in Vietnam by COL (Ret) James G. Van Straten, RES '74. The author served in I Corps in 1966-67. He was assigned to MACV Advisory Team #1 as the senior medical advisor to the ARVN in the First Corps Tactical Zone at a time when there were no U.S. Army combat units in the entire corps area. I Corps was then known, among the Americans, as "Marine Country." The author traveled extensively throughout the upper five provinces of South Vietnam, interacting primarily with ARVN officers and non-commissioned officers but also with Vietnamese civilians representing the full spectrum of Vietnamese society. His duties also required frequent interaction with the U.S. Navy, Marine Corps and Air Force. Serving then as a major, he developed great admiration for General Lew Walt and his U.S. Marines, as well as for the physicians, nurses, administrators, and technicians who staffed the U.S. Naval Support Activity Hospital at Da Nang.

Professor Thomas Roberts lists over 50 scholarly publications that were informed by psychedelics. Winkelman extends the intellectual realm to indigenous medicine, Fadiman to transpersonal psychology, Stokink to philosophy, Yaden et al to biology, Nemu to politics, and so forth.

own calling or ideal direction in life in the modern world. Additionally, it includes contributions by well-known scholars and scientists such as Dr. Martin Seligman, who discovered learned helplessness and founded positive psychology; Dr. Andrew Newberg, who pioneered the neuroscience of spiritual experiences; and Dr. Ralph Hood, a renowned expert on mystical experiences.

known as the Casamance. This is a first-hand, insider account of the efforts of the diplomat and his wife to help end this deadly and debilitating conflict. It is not about international relations theory or history, but contemporary nuts-and-bolts diplomatic practice and the day-to-day life of a senior American diplomatic couple in West Africa. It suggests expeditionary diplomacy as a conflict response model that falls between the extremes of trying to act everywhere as a global policeman, and of ignoring small conflicts and letting them fester until they directly threaten important American interests and require much more costly and difficult interventions.

The Psychedelic Policy Quagmire: Health, Law, Freedom, and Society edited by Dr. (COL, Ret) J. Harold Ellens, DCS '77, and Thomas B. Roberts. This book begins with a question, "To formulate socially responsible and scientifically accurate policy on the medical and non-medical uses of psychedelic substances, what do we need to know?" That the question included medical policy was obvious, but the psychedelic continent stretches far beyond medicine. The Reverend Dr. Huston Smith writes about the religious and spiritual aspects. In the intellectual domain,

Being Called: Scientific, Secular, and Sacred Perspectives edited by COL (Ret) J. Harold Ellens, DCS '77, David Bryce Yaden, and Theo D. McCall. This unique book is an essential resource for interdisciplinary research and scholarship on the phenomenon of feeling called to a life path or vocation at the interface of science and religion. It offers religious, spiritual, scientific, and secular avenues of understanding experiences of calling. It creates an opening for a new dialogue between psychology and spirituality. It provides readers with sound, practical advice on how to find one's

Expeditionary Diplomacy in Action: Supporting the Casamance Peace Initiative by Amb. James R. Bullington, RES '79, and Tuy-Cam Bullington. "Expeditionary diplomacy" is a term for the State Department's effort to improve U.S. capacity to respond effectively to international conflicts that involve American interests. The author, a retired career diplomat, was recalled to active duty for expeditionary diplomacy to assist the Government of Senegal in an initiative to end a 30-year secessionist conflict in the southern part of the country,

Six Essential Elements of Leadership: Marine Corps Wisdom of a Medal of Honor Recipient by Col (Ret) Wesley L. Fox, USMC, RES '84. Medal of Honor recipient Fox examines what he considers the six essential elements of leadership. Whether you're planning to guide your son's Scout troop into the wilderness, or you are commanding Soldiers, Sailors, Airmen, or Marines up against a determined and resourceful enemy, this book on leadership hits upon the important leadership skills necessary for success.

Fox rose from the ranks to serve his country in two major wars of the mid-20th century. Cutting his combat teeth in Korea, he went on to command a rifle company in Vietnam and receive our country's highest award for valor. At the end of his luminous career, he commanded the Officer Candidates School at Marine Corps Base Quantico, and retired from active duty in 1993. His vast leadership learning curve includes lessons from his first squad leader to various well-known leaders of the Marine Corps.

Brotherhood of Cheerful Service: A History of the Order of the Arrow by COL (Ret) Kenneth P. Davis, DCS '93. This is the 100th anniversary edition of the history of the Order of the Arrow released at its Centennial National Conference held at Michigan State University in August 2015. The Order of the Arrow is most commonly known as the National Honor Society of the Boy Scouts of America (BSA). It is the society created to honor scouts who best exemplify the Scout Oath and Law. The society was created by E. Uner Goodman, with the assistance of Carroll A. Edson, in 1915 as a means of reinforcing the Scout Oath and the Scout Law. The goal was to establish these as lifelong guidelines, and to encourage continued participation in Scouting and camping.

Team of Teams: New Rules of Engagement for a Complex World by GEN (Ret) Stanley McChrystal USAWCF '97, with three others. What if you could combine the agility, adaptability, and cohesion of a small team with the power and resources of a giant organization? When McChrystal took command of the Joint Special Operations Task Force in 2004, he quickly realized that conventional military tactics were failing, even with a huge advantage in numbers, equipment, and training. Al Qaeda in Iraq was a decentralized network that could move quickly, strike ruthlessly, then seemingly vanish into the local population. In any field, small teams have many advantages—responding quickly, communicating freely, and making decisions without layers of bureaucracy. But organizations taking on really big challenges need management practices that can scale to thousands. McChrystal and his colleagues show how the challenges they faced in Iraq can be relevant to countless businesses, nonprofits, and other organizations. The authors show how the “team of teams” strategy has the potential to transform organizations large and small.

Forests of Steel: Modern City Combat from the War in Vietnam to the Battle for Iraq edited by COL (Ret) John Antal, RES '98, and LTC Bradley T. Gericke. This book tells the story of urban warfare from the Vietnam War to today and offers valuable insights to the conduct of war. Thirteen accomplished Soldiers and historians, ranking from major to general, transport you to the front lines of battle in the city fights of the past 40 years. This is a book that every professional warfighter, politician, and concerned citizen should read because tomorrow's conflicts, when an even greater percentage of the world's population will live in urban areas, will be waged in cities. Urban combat in a deadly forest of steel will decide the fate of millions.

The Last Great Cavalry Charge by COL (Ret) Joseph P. Robinson, RES '98, Col (Ret) Janet A. Robinson, USAF, RES '01, and Francis Hendriks. The Battle of the Silver Helmets at Halen on August 12, 1914 had been orchestrated on the previous successes of the cavalry of Frederick the Great. It was staged so that the German Fourth Cavalry Division would charge into glory with sabres rattling. Instead, 24 German officers, 468 men, and 843 horses were lost during no less than eight separate charges conducted on that day. The entire right wing of the Imperial German Army included only nine cavalry brigades in the well-known Schlieffen Plan, and two of those brigades were decimated in this one battle. The battle has not been previously explored in detail in the English language, as it took place before the British Expeditionary Force landed in the channel ports and well before any American involvement. Furthermore, British historians have generally focused on Germany's efforts to enter Belgium through the forts at Liège, which are east of Halen. An understanding of the battle explains why large-scale cavalry charges would never again be attempted on the Western Front.

Tarnished: Toxic Leadership in the U.S. Military by Dr. (COL, Ret) George E. Reed, RES '99. Bad or toxic leadership, abusive supervision, and petty tyranny in organizations are perennial issues, but to date, there has been little effort to examine the scope and nature of bad leadership in the military. Since leadership is central to the identity of the U.S. military, Reed defines the problems and suggests solutions appropriate to the military's unique structure and situation. The services regularly publish doctrinal works and professional journal articles focusing on leadership, but in most of those, leadership is presented as a universally positive notion, a solution to problems, and something to be developed through an extensive and costly system of professional military education. Reed, however, focuses on individual experiences of toxic leadership at the organizational level, arguing that because it has such a detrimental impact on the military organizational culture, additional remediation measures are needed. He also demonstrates how system dynamics and military culture themselves contribute to the problem. Most significant, the book provides cogent advice and insights to those suffering from toxic leaders, educators developing tomorrow's military leaders, and military administrators working to repair the current system.

The Courage to Take Command: Leadership Lessons from a Military Trailblazer* by COL (Ret) Jill E. Morgenthauer, DDE '00. As one of the first female ROTC cadets in the mid-1970s, first female military intelligence commander in the DMZ in South Korea and Germany (West Berlin), first female battalion commander in the 88th Division, and first female brigade commander in the 84th Division, the author provides leadership lessons from her 30 years of combined active and Army Reserve service. In combat zones that included Iraq, conducting military intelligence operations, psychological operations, humanitarian operations, and civil affairs, the military taught her that leadership requires a fine balance of reason and emotion, distance and familiarity, and hard and soft power. She shares how to lead to success at all levels of any organization.

A Journey through PTSD: How Hope Got Me Through* by CH (COL, Ret) Dr. John J. South, Ph.D, RES '01. The author, a former soldier, police officer, and current chaplain, shares his experiences of being injured in Vietnam, being on the scene at Columbine, and spending months helping during the 9/11 recovery efforts. He has seen more than his share of death and destruction in his lifetime, and has dealt with the devastating after-effects: living with PTSD and depression. This book, part memoir and part self-help, offers hope and help for others suffering with these issues, and it also offers suggestions on how to deal with loved ones who are living with or showing symptoms of depression or PTSD.

Detained: Emails and musings from a spiritual journey through Abu Ghraib, Kandahar and other garden spots* by COL (Ret) Brian M. Rees, M.D., DDE '07. Over his five deployments to the Middle East since 9/11, Rees documented his daily life in emails to his friends and family. In this memoir, you hear what it is like to be a doctor to Taliban and al-Qaeda insurgents, to serve at Saddam Hussein's trial, and to work with a mostly Muslim population in an occupied country. He gives us a first-hand look at our wars, and at some of the ethical dilemmas faced by a physician on the battlefield. While attending USAWC, he integrated evidence-based discoveries from Eastern spiritual traditions that have promise in treating and preventing posttraumatic stress, as well as interventions to help modify behavior on the battlefield. He explores his own faith and reflects on topics as diverse as how the Army molds soldiers, how the VA treats veterans, what went wrong at Abu Ghraib and in our invasion of Iraq, the dynamics fueling the Transcendental Meditation organization, and the influences of fundamentalism in both Islam and Christianity.

It's Your Career: OWN IT!* by Alice Muellerweiss, RES '08. People can no longer assume a lifetime career in a single organization, nor can they depend on the organization to provide a comprehensive suite of career development activities or tools. The economy, new technology, scarcity of good jobs, and increasing number of people in the workforce are challenges to which people must pay particular attention. Muellerweiss presents a call to action for people to own their career planning and aggressively act on their plan. She frames the book with leadership stories spanning more than 30 years of public service, from Army Private to Senior Executive. Through her personal experiences, first-hand observations, and research, she shares key difference makers, models, and tips on how to champion self, increase innovation, and create change to achieve individual success. She reveals a framework which helps people make choices to develop and follow a path to achieve career aspirations, inspiring readers to courageously commit to accomplishing their personal goals, and confidently take action.

Virtuous Policing: Bridging America's Gulf Between Police and Populace* by Lt Col (Ret) David G. Bolgiano, ANG, RES '09, L. Morgan Banks III, and James M. Patterson. This book provides an assessment and commentary of governmental coercive uses of force, whether by civilian law enforcement officers in the U.S. or by military service members overseas. It examines the ethical, legal, psychological and tactical realities of such encounters using specific case studies, and then offers realistic and practical solutions and recommendations on how law enforcement and military leaders can better train and lead their subordinates to either avoid such encounters or lessen their impact on good and peaceable governance.

Wisconsin's Flying Trees in World War II: A Victory for American Forest Products and Allied Aviation* by Sara Witter Connor, NSS '15. Wisconsin's trees heard "Timber" during WWII, as the forest products industry of the Badger State played a key role in the Allied aerial campaign. It was Wisconsin that provided the material for the De Havilland Mosquito, known as the "Timber Terror," while the CG-4A battle-ready gliders, cloaked in stealthy silence, carried the 82nd and 101st Airborne into fierce fighting throughout Europe and the Pacific. The author follows a forgotten thread of the American war effort, celebrating the factory workers, lumberjacks, pilots, and innovative thinkers of the U.S. Forest Products Laboratory who helped win a world war with paper, wood and glue.

The Achilles: A Tale of Failed Leadership, Courage, Killers, and Women* by COL Randolph S. Wardle, RES '16. This is a novel about the horrors and deception of war, and one man's courage in the face of overwhelming odds. When River Rochman joins the U.S. Army, his plan is simply to survive four years of military service to pay off his college loans, then go home to marry his girlfriend, Daisy. Instead, he's sent into Afghanistan and Pakistan in December 2004 to recover the "Achilles," a communications system that locates U.S. Special Forces and CIA agents conducting operations. He must cross the border disguised as a local worker with no weapons and only his street-smarts to help him survive. Once in Pakistan, he reluctantly rescues a Pakistani woman and her child from an abusive husband, and a strong bond forms between the three as Rochman continues his search for the Achilles. The mission is plagued by betrayal, pain, and sacrifice.

MINI-REUNION OF 2009 INTERNATIONAL FELLOWS (IFs)

L-R: BG Torgeir (Tor) and Hanne Gratrud (Norway); BG Sal Sanchez (Spain); Rita Sirel (Estonia); Özlen Altun (Turkey); BG Indrek Sirel (Estonia); Margot and BG Wolfgang Richter (Germany); BG Pietro Tornabene (Italy); Col (Ret) Fatih Altun (Turkey); Alessandra Tornabene (Italy); Fitore Cahani (Albania); Mercedes Sanchez (Spain); and Col Nazmi Cahani (Albania).

Dear IFs and U.S. friends, here we are in late May 2015 in Thessaloniki, Greece, our first reunion of the IFs of the Class of AY 09. I cannot overstate the great joy we all had by meeting again after six years. We had the chance to enjoy the beauty of Greece, to catch up after so much time, and to confirm that the spirits are still high and that the friendship remains strong.

On Friday evening, we met at the Sanchez' place to share some paella. Then on Saturday, we took a mini-bus to Philippi, the first city in Europe visited by St. Paul, and Kavala, in front of the island of Thasos, a place closely linked to the story of the Peloponnesian War. We enjoyed an excellent Greek lunch and Ouzo by the sea in a typical Greek taverna. Following an ancestral Turkish tradition, the ladies read the future in the dregs of the coffee. The oracle said the IFs will meet again soon! In Germany, we believe!

On Sunday, the group split. Some of us stayed in Thessaloniki, recovering from the exciting Saturday that ended aboard a pirate ship in the Bay of Thessaloniki, or doing some sightseeing downtown. Others drove to Vergina to visit the royal tomb of King Philippos II, the father of Alexander the Great.

Wolfgang (and, of course, Margot) proved to be the same great President he was in Carlisle and immediately started thinking on future plans to institutionalize this event. He mentioned the possibility of meeting in Koblenz, Germany for the 10th anniversary of our arrival in Carlisle (2018). Before that date comes, it would be great if we were able to keep the flame burning and organize other meetings... Any volunteer? Putting this together is not difficult, and the wonderful moments that such an occasion brings are worth the effort.

And to all of you who were not here, you were missed. Fortunately, Nazmi and Fitore made sure we toasted each and every one of you with the Aquavit Tor smuggled from Norway. We all made vows for reuniting again next year and to see many more of us! Do not miss the next reunion. And please: if somebody is thinking on taking the next step.... do not hesitate and do it!

We all agreed that this gathering was a tribute to the U.S. efforts to enhance mutual confidence and stability across the world by having International Fellows at USAWC.

Many regards to all, Sal and Mer

RESIDENT CLASSES OF 1978 AND 1980 REUNION

We held a combined 37-year and 35-year reunion for the Resident Classes of 1978 and 1980 on May 5-7, 2015. The groups enjoyed re-connecting with one another, comparing notes with current USAWC leaders, visiting the Army Heritage and Education Center (AHEC), and touring new quarters.

COL Rick Harney welcomed the returning grads to AHEC, many visiting it for the first time.

Wil Waschoe Auditorium was "reunion central" and "home base" for the returning grads and their spouses.

1995 CLASS REUNION

The combined 20-year reunion for the 1995 Resident and Corresponding Studies Classes and Fellows was held October 15-17, 2015. As we did for the 1994 Class last year, we scheduled this reunion to start the day following the AUSA Annual Meeting in Washington, DC so grads could take advantage of both. It was a 2½ day event filled with visits to Root Hall, new family quarters, LeTort View Community Center (the former Officers Club), Army Heritage and Education Center (AHEC), a Gettysburg Staff Ride, golf, seminar dinners across Carlisle and Boiling Springs, and so much more. The group was joined at the main reunion dinner by COL (Ret) John Connolly, RES '84, their Deputy Commandant, COL (Ret) Terry

Wallace, RES '83, Corresponding Studies Department Chairman when the Class of 1995 began, LTG (Ret) Dave Huntoon, 1995 Fellow and former USAWC Commandant, and nine other faculty members. A special thanks goes to COL (Ret) Stew Crane for his tireless efforts over the years, and especially this last year, to locate and communicate with his classmates so that the reunion could be a success! Thanks also to Brig (Ret) Frederic and Marie-Claire Drion and Col (Ret) Peter and Sheila Williams for traveling from France and the U.K. respectively to represent the IFs. Please enjoy a sampling of photos from this great reunion.

DIGITAL RESOURCES FOR ALUMNI

Did you know that USAWC alumni have access to digital resources not available to the public, with more planned for the near future? The USAWC Knowledge Management Network (KMN) provides access to alumni using Common Access Card (CAC) or username/password credentials. Graduates from Academic Year 2002 and later have existing access and can use their primary email address on file with the College as username. Other graduates can request an account via options provided on the landing page. In addition to new account requests, users can utilize options for forgotten password, etc.

The KMN offers modules to alumni to include Personnel Directory Search and Subject Matter Expertise lookup. Alumni can also update their own personal information via the Personal Data Manager and Post Graduation Career Assignments modules. Additional modules and functionality may be added for alumni use in the future. The KMN is available at: <https://www.carlisle.army.mil/kmn/>

Additionally, the USAWC plans to soon offer alumni access to current curriculum and course content via its online Learning Management System platform, Blackboard. This initiative is in progress, so stay tuned for updates.

LOOKING FOR SUBJECT MATTER EXPERTS

The Veterans National Education Program (V-NEP) seeks knowledgeable people willing to share cultural or historical facts, and/or discuss current military and geopolitical issues about countries around the world. Interviews would be videotaped in the Carlisle area, edited with footage and then posted on V-NEP's educational Global Awareness Map. The map, used by U.S. educators, is an interactive, highly visual "encyclopedia" with a special focus on "hot spots" and geo-political issues around the world. V-NEP is currently looking for individuals with expertise on countries within Europe, Southern Africa, Central America and South America. If interested, please contact: Susan Sherwood, Executive Producer ssherwood235@comcast.net.
